The Wabash Cannonball

The first railroads traveled through Wabash, Indiana in 1856. Many trains coming through took the name “Wabash Cannonball.”

This is now a popular song.

THE STORY OF MODOC

The most famous elephant in America.

It was November 11, 1942, and the Great American Circus was coming to Wabash. While the elephants of the circus were waiting to perform, dogs suddenly barked at the elephants’ feet, letting them bolt loose. Modoc charged Downtown Wabash for five days causing all sorts of problems!

Finally, a Carolina circus trainer, “Corona” Ezra Smith finally lured Modoc onto her trailer chanting his elephant “mumbo jumbo” and dispensing 26 loaves of bread like doggie treats.

The Great American Circus never returned to Wabash again, but the memory of Modoc lives on at Modoc’s Market in Wabash.
